County Manager Hails Commuters' Work

County Executive Frederick Peterson has extended congratulations to the Redwood City Commuters Club and to Eugene Hoffman, chairman of the club's transportation committee, on satisfactory conclusion of its efforts to "break the bottleneck" between the railroad depot and business sections in San Francisco.

Peterson conferred with San Francisco Administrative Officer Alfred Cleary and Works Director A. D. Wilder on the Third and Townsend St. congestion, only to learn that the "Farlow Plan" had been approved by Wilder to the satisfaction of Hoffman's committee.

"The committee has done an excellent piece of work," Peterson declared.

Meanwhile Traffic Capt. Albert Munn condemned the plan as a "makeshift," but said he would issue the necessary permit to make it possible.

New Status Is Assumed

MOFFETT FIELD — For the third time in its brief but eventful career as an important West Coast base, Moffett Field has assumed a new title, that of the third most important aviation training center in the continental United States.

First Moffett Field was designed primarily as a hangar for the bulky lighter-than-air dirigibles, and the Macon was housed there until its fatal crash into the Pacific.

Then the U. S. Navy leased the field to the Army Air Corps and it was taken over first as a weather and observation outpost, more recently as headquarters for two pursuit groups transferred from Barksdale Field, La., to strengthen Uncle Sam's Pacific Coast aerial defenses.

But today, with the complete organization of two new squadrons, the 78th and 79th School Squadrons, Moffett Field becomes headquarters for the Air Corps Basic Flying School, which is one unit of the West Coast Air Corps Training Center.

With the usual Army precision, the change from one type of field to another has taken place almost exactly on the dates which were named several months ago. For most of the oldtimers at Moffett Field it was like being at a new station this week. Of all the outfits formerly stationed there, only a very few men remained, after the final transfer of the bulk of the Ninth Air Corps personnel.

The new commander of the field is Col. E. B. Lyons, who arrived at this post Sept. 1. His executive officer is Lieut. Col. G. L. Usher.

It has been intimated in official circles, although there has been no confirmation, that more than 100 men, composed of noncommissioned officers and enlisted troops, would be transferred to Moffett Field from March Field, Riverside, to help fill out the headquarters staff.

STANLEY KELLY KIN DIES

BURLINGAME—Funeral services were held in San Francisco Monday for Alfred R. Kelly, 83, banker and father of former County Purchasing Agent Stanley Kelly. Mr. Kelly, oldest living graduate of University of San Francisco, died Saturday.

Military uses of flax are in making harness, belts, straps and parachute rigging.

$100,000 Bank Home Is Started

Work was under way today on the First National Bank's new building, to be built on Broadway across the street from the present building at Main St.

Representing a total investment of more than $100,000, the modern concrete building which will be covered with a light terra cotta colored ceramic title, will be ready for occupancy in five months, according to Gilbert Neese, general contractor.

Adjacent to the 55x108-foot building, which will face on Broadway, will be a large parking lot for autoists, according to J. Elmer Morrish, bank manager.

A number of innovations are planned for the modern structure, Morrish said. Fluorescent lighting will be used throughout. A customers' waiting room will be constructed on the main floor. On the mezzanine will be a room suitable for use by the public. Rest rooms will also be located on the mezzanine floor. Marble will be used extensively in the interior.

Architect for the structure is Albert E. Roller, who also designed the bank building at Broadway and California St. now occupied by American Trust Co. but built for the First National.

Morrish said that as far as possible, local sub-contractors and local products would be used on the building. Cost of the structure alone is $65,595. With price of the lot and cost of the fixtures, the investment to the bank is expected to be well over $100,000.

The construction project marks another building venture for the Broadway extension, scene of a number of business developments in the past year.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MENLO PARK—The will of the late Leon F. Douglass was filed for probate in the superior court at Redwood City this week. The bulk of the estate was left to his four children. The estate is probably worth in excess of ten million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. J. M. Howell and Mrs. Herbert Law of Atherton are enjoying a two-week stay at Santa Cruz.

★ ★ ★

The Firemen's Ball at the Blue Moon Saturday night was a big success. Fifty couples were in the grand march led by Chief Thomas Cuff and his lovely wife. A goodly sum was realized for the Widows' and Orphans' Fund.

★ ★ ★

E. M. Rankin, the realtor, has gone to Seattle on business. He will also visit his old home in Portland. Mr. Rankin was born in the latter place and spent his young manhood there.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Guy Manson and his charming wife, the former Jean Bruce, and their two sons were here from Fresno Sunday and were the guests of Mrs. Dorothy Bruce Fredericks. The two boys have registered at Interdale, a preparatory school for Stanford. Both will take up the medical profession in which their father has been so successful.

★ ★ ★

The rainfall from the recent storm was 25 inch, compared to .35 inch at this time last year. The rain did no damage as the peach and grape crop has been gathered and the late apples suffered only a minimum of loss.

★ ★ ★

The Kuck gardens will be the scene of a gay assemblage tomorrow night as a "night in Old Menlo" will be featured by the wearing of old clothes and the singing of familiar songs enjoyed by people of the "Gay '90's." An old-style bar with brass railings in front will dispense soft drinks and a male quartet will regale all with songs ever dear to the pioneers and lovers of old-time music. The affair is under the auspices of the Lions Club and that organization is known for its hospitality and entertainment.

★ ★ ★

Edward O'Keefe and James Houston of San Mateo left yesterday for the Willow Creek Gun Club to arrange their blinds for the approach of the duck season which opens on Oct. 16 and closes in two months. They report larger flights of birds from the North. Thirty thousand acres comprise the club's area, mostly covered with water during the rainy season.

William Tell Lynch and Miss Millie Margaret Perching will be united in marriage in San Francisco today. Following the marriage a reception will take place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Perchinig. Mr. Lynch is a grandson of the late Michael Lynch, the man who first introduced Peninsula flowers to the San Francisco market.

The pretty bride is a prominent socialite of the Mission District. Mr. Lynch is connected with a prominent draying firm of San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

The election on Monday for three members of the Menlo Park Sanitary District board brought out quite a vote and much interest was manifested in the contest. The three incumbents were re-elected by big majorities. The vote was as follows: W. T. Casey, 422; Edward E. Eyre, 403; Martin Crimmins, 372 (incumbents); Jack Ainsworth, 169; A. Bugna, 138, and Edward Feeley, 233.

★ ★ ★

The Policemen's Ball in the Blue Moon dance pavilion on Saturday, Sept. 28, promises to be well-attended. Many tickets have been sold and much interest is taken in the forthcoming event.

Last Rites Held For Thomas Martin

SAN CARLOS — Funeral services were conducted in San Francisco Monday for Thomas Martin, 72, who died at the home of his son, George Martin, 405 Sycamore St., San Carlos, on Friday. The deceased was a retired feed and fuel merchant and had lived in San Carlos since February. Mr. Martin was a native of England and had come to California 54 years ago. In addition to his son he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Belle Fleming and Mrs. Eleanor M. Kara, both of Oakland.

Services were held from the Julius S. Godeau morturary. Interment was at Holy Cross Cemetery, Lawndale.

L. P. Brassy Faces Contempt Action

L. P. Brassy, head of the firm which disposes of San Francisco's garbage by fill and cover at Bayshore City, today faced contempt action in San Francisco as the result of a grand jury investigation into alleged illegal and corrupt practices in the San Francisco garbage collective system.

Brassy, who refused to produce his book for the grand jury, will be named defendant in proceedings to be started in superior court tomorrow it was announced. Brassy told the jury a week ago that he had nothing to conceal, but that he objected to a "fishing expedition" into his private accounts.

The HAPPY KITCHEN

NANCY BAKER
Noted Economist

Do you cook by mathematics or by calisthenics? Calisthenics are fine in their place, but the place isn't in the kitchen. It's much easier to cook by a recipe of one part mathematics, two parts ingenuity, and a large-sized portion of fun and adventure.

There's really no need at all for back-breaking drudgery in this modern day and age. There are undiscovered worlds of new things to make, new ways to make the old dishes better, "hurry-up" time-savers and wife-savers, and hosts of short-cuts to meals more delicious than Epicurus ever dreamed. And they're all so easy and so simple—you don't have to spend the whole family budget or even a very big slice of it for them. You'll wonder, when you hear them, how in the world you've missed thinking of these joyous aids to happier meals before this.

If you want to hear about the latest fashions in foods, and the way to make them with less work and more fun, we have a treat in store for you—our FREE Cooking School. It has been arranged by practical experts on cookery — and it will be crammed full of suggestions to brighten your kitchen for a whole year. Every comfort has been provided, you'll get lots of entertaining surprises —and all you have to do is just Come!

Stahl Visits Relatives, Plans Trek to Sacramento

By WALT PETERSON

He used up half a dozen pairs of shoes doing it, but it took a lot more than shoe leather for John F. Stahl, 57, retired Menlo Park mail clerk, to heel-and-toe it 3700 miles from Balboa in the Panama Canal Zone to Austin, Tex., through some of the roughest country on this or any other continent.

Stahl, still wearing the wiry gray beard he nurtured through not quite nine months of hiking through nine countries in Central America, came home to visit his parents Sunday in Redwood City. They are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stahl, both 83 years of age, residing in a modest cottage on Westmoreland Ave. in Dumbarton Oaks.

His face and forearms tanned by the scorching Central American sun, Stahl was here to say hello not only to his parents and a brother, Richard C. Stahl of Northumberland St., but to visit numerous friends in Menlo Park.

25 YEARS SERVICE

Stahl completed 25 years in the service of the United States government in 1935, with his sixth year as postal clerk in Menlo Park. Since then he has been retired and has been seeking relief from a stubborn stomach ailment, which was the reason for his long walk from Balboa.

"I decided to take the walk to try to cure my stomach ache," Stahl laughed, "but it didn't do much good. I still have it."

Foremost among his Menlo Park friends is Harry Morey, postmaster.

He learned a lot about walking in that trip, Stahl admits, as he announced that he plans another little jaunt in a short while.

"I figure to walk to Sacramento soon, to ask Governor Olson to sign my autograph book," he revealed. "It ought to take me about 10 or 15 days to make the round trip."

USED NATIVES' HOSPITALITY

In place of taking pictures on his trip, an art at which he claims no special skill and which would have entailed carrying some extra equipment, Stahl collected autographs. He covered the 3700 miles (longer than from here to New York) without spending any money, imposing upon the hospitality of the Indians and Mexicans because he thought "that was the real way to learn something of the people, their ways and their nature."

And of their hospitality he had much to say, too.

"The Indians and Mexicans were wonderfully kind to me," he said. "Frankly, I don't expect the same kind of treatment when I walk to Sacramento.

"Why, in Tegucigalpa (Honduras) I asked someone if they knew where I might find a place to sleep. A woman told me to go to the jail and they would give me a bed, but just then an Indian woman came up and offered me the use of a shed behind her home.

SPIC AND SPAN BED

"She took me by the arm to a storehouse in the rear of her home. It contained a cot covered with burlap sacks. She gave me more sacks for covers. They were only sacks but they were spic and span. There wasn't a flea in the place, and that's one of the most bothersome things, as a rule.

"I stayed there three days, and when I told her I was leaving she begged me to stay longer and rest. She had little enough herself, but she gave me everything I desired. I later found out her husband is blind.

"I wanted to learn something of the hardships of the people in those countries, and I found they have plenty of them. But they take everything with a smile and share everything they have with anyone in need. They are wonderful people. May God bless them."

Stahl originally went to the Canal Zone for his health in January, 1939. He was familiar with the area, having worked on the canal from 1910 to 1918, and thought he could find a cure for his illness. After spending seven months there and three more in Costa Rica, he heard of two Colombian police officers who were hiking to the United States, and he determined to do the same.

NEVER HEARD FROM

What became of those men he doesn't know. He found no one on his trip who had seen or heard of them.

Starting Nov. 14 last year, Stahl averaged 13 to 14 miles a day, he estimates. That counts in stopovers in various places, the three days in Tegucigalpa, eight more in Mexico City and shorter stops elsewhere. He arrived in Austin, Tex., Aug. 5, without having accepted a ride of any kind throughout the trip. Just as he was starting a man carried his knapsack three miles ahead for him by automobile, but otherwise he had no aid.

After reaching Austin he traveled to the East via the southern states, stopping off to see friends en route, before returning to his home at 626 Pine St., San Francisco, where his wife resides. He had not seen his wife for 20 months. He has no children.

Extremely helpful throughout his trip were two letters, one from Mayor Angelo J. Rossi of San Francisco and the other from Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American Union, Stahl said. He carried a Spanish cedar walking stick given to him by a soldier in the Canal Zone, and a knapsack that at first was bulging but which he soon emptied of most of its contents.

"Before I ever got the pack on my back it began to tear, I had so much stuff in it," Stahl said. "I soon found out I couldn't hope to carry very much, so I gave away a lot of things, including a little camera and two rolls of film."

NOT ILL A DAY

Stahl considers himself particularly fortunate that he wasn't ill a single day. He was indisposed a few times but never for more than a couple of hours. The heat was terrible, he said.

"Especially in Panama, Nicaragua, Mexico and Texas, it became almost unbearable at times. I did most of my walking in the morning and evening, trying for the most part to get my day's stint in before noon."

A temptation that nearly ended his hike came when a truck driver offered him a ride to the Texas border from Mexico City. By that time he was getting anxious to get home, and it would have taken only two days to go by truck.

He stuck it out, though, he said, and covered the distance in 42 days.

CALLED ST. PETER

Stahl tells of many other incidents, such as being referred to as St. Peter by credulous Indian women who mistakenly identified his whitish beard—"Mira, mira, San Pedro!" they cried—and of finding a brand new United States mail bag in the possession of a Negro who spoke perfect English and who fed him an equal share of all he possessed in his little shack in Puente Real not long after he had started.

The generous Negro was using the bag as a storehouse for his provisions, to keep out ants. Where it came from Stahl "overlooked" to ask, he said.

He was to return to San Francisco sometime this week, after seeing his friends here, and then plan his trip to Sacramento. He will go to the San Francisco Exposition before it closes, certainly, he said. What else lies in the future? Well, that's hard to say.

MORAL: BE EXPLICIT

BELLE FOURCHE, S. D. (AP)—Mrs. Frank Evans offered a reward for the return of two escaped pets. The want-ad failed to bring results. She tried another. The pets—skunks—had been descented, she assured readers. Results were better.

European Newsman To Speak at M. P.

MENLO PARK — Dr. Franz Schick of Berkeley, European newspaper correspondent and authority on international affairs, was to address the Menlo Park "Constitution Night" meeting Thursday on the subject "Which Way America?" The program, sponsored by the Menlo Park Lion's Club, was to open to the public without charge at Central Grammar School and was scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Dr. Schick is making a lecture tour of California to warn Americans of what is going on in Europe and to urge them to take all necessary measures to protect that which they now enjoy.

HOMING INSTINCT

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—If it had happened to anyone but Grant Duncan it hardly would be worth mentioning. Duncan was motoring back from a picnic when his wife noticed their car was on fire. Duncan put on speed; drove right into the fire station of which he is chief.

HANDS OFF!

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Glendale's city council has decided it doesn't want shoppers to pick up and handle food in grocery stores. An ordinance providing penalties has been passed.

Evangelistic Meetings Start at Local Church

Rev. Arne Vick of Chicago, who toured Europe just before the start of the war, began evangelistic meetings here at the Full Gospel Church on Roosevelt Ave., opposite Cleveland, Redwood City. According to Pastor William Savidge, Mr. Vick is "a dynamic speaker, preaching the old-time message of the gospel." The services will be held nightly at 7:45 o'clock except Saturdays.

JUST LOOKING

SPARTANSBURG, S. C. (AP)—A visitor to the county jail brought his lunch with him. "I thought I'd stay awhile," he explained.

In Buying a Rug

Walls, Draperies, Furniture Are Considered

Shopping for a rug involves careful planning.

The walls, draperies and furniture you have play an important part, for your rug is an all embracing background and the foundation of your room. And though you may mix periods and textures and colors with a free hand, the rug on your floor must of necessity live in happy harmony with tables and chairs, draperies and accessories.

Too much pattern in a room is apt to be confusing and difficult to live with and yet none of us enjoys barring pattern completely except in one place. But rug designers in recent years have done wonders in giving us patterns, such as the one shown here, which answers this problem. It is not so lively that you will not be able to use pattern elsewhere and yet it has just the subtlest indication of a graceful design which is often enough to give the added interest that makes the difference between a dull room and a distinguished one.

And as your floor covering is a large investment, for it is one of the things where quality is the most important, it is a wise plan to figure ahead, not only on what your home is like now, but what you wish it to grow into in the coming years.

That is one of the reasons why this highly stylized fern leaf pattern would be such an asset. It is neither strikingly modernistic nor authetically traditional, but based on the demands of good design, so it will always be correct.

Not only does it provide a charming and dignified background for the traditional furniture it is shown with, but later if you wish to add a few more modern pieces, mixing periods or even light and dark finishes, it will still be perfectly in keeping.

R. C. Firm

Glass of All Kinds Sold

Glass—in almost any way, shape or form—is handled by the Redwood City Glass Co., 2065 Broadway. New installations, repairs, and glass stock for all needs are offered Redwood City residents, at fair prices.

"There are no jobs too large, none too small for us," states Walter J. Bank, proprietor of the firm. "We install glass storefronts, any size or shape, and we fix broken mirrors."

Between these two types of jobs are many kind of services performed by the Redwood City Glass Co. They install automobile windshields and window glasses for all makes, specializing in shatterproof glass.

To those housewives who see nothing but seven years' bad luck and a useless article in a shattered mirror, Bank offers consolation.

"Bring it in to us—we'll fix it so that it's like new, and the cost will be well under that of a new mirror."

Old mirrors which have lost their reflecting surface or become dull may also be restored.

As for broken window panes, the firm will go to any address and install new glass, saving the householders possible trouble and prevent cut fingers. For this service, a telephone call (Redwood 182) will bring a glass installation man in a jiffy.

The firm has a supply of illustrated booklets showing new uses for glass in homes, and any who are interested are invited to stop in at the Broadway shop to get one. This booklet shows how the new glass bricks, rapidly gaining favor in home building, may be used effectively to improve home design and to increase the amount of natural lighting.

Baird Firm

30 Year's Service Given

Thirty years of service to the people of Redwood City and vicinity is the record of the F. L. Baird Lumber Co., 1422 Roosevelt Ave.

F. L. Baird and Earl D. Baird, brothers, established the lumber business at the Roosevelt Ave. location 30 years ago. A large share of the houses, business buildings, and other structures in the city and surrounding territory were constructed of lumber and materials provided by the Baird company.

In those days, when the automobile was still in the infancy of its development, a horse and wagon were used to haul lumber from the company's yards to where it was to be used. Now three trucks operated by the firm transport lumber and materials quickly.

The business is now operated by F. L. Baird Jr. and his brother, Ernest H. Baird, sons of one of the founders of the company. The "boys" were raised in Redwood City.

DAV Chapters Hold Picnic at Flood Park

The annual picnic of Edmund Parrott Chapter 16, San Mateo County, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, was held at Flood Park Sunday. Participating were Chapters 3 of San Francisco, 7 of Oakland, and 47 of Palo Alto, together with their Womens' Auxiliary Chapters.

A free barbecue of roast pig and steaks was served at noon with hot dogs, all kinds of soft drinks, ice cream and such for the children. Following the eats a soft ball game took place between two closely-matched teams, after which races and games were run off.

Kissing is said to have originated between kinsmen and women in order that the men of the household might know whether their wives or daughters had tasted wine.

"John and Mary! And the children, too! How good it is to hear your voices!"

NEXT TO A VISIT IN PERSON, the voice counts most. Why not call up a loved one today? Telephone service in America is the world's biggest telephone bargain. It's good and it's cheap. The 300,000 people in the Bell System take pride in giving you skilled, courteous service.

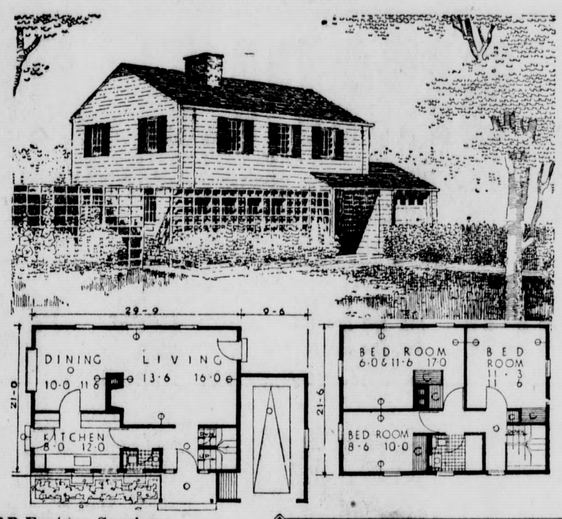
Roominess at Low Cost In This Colonial House



AP Feature Service

With three bedrooms, two bathrooms, closets apenty and a full basement, this modified Georgian colonial house is a family home, a housewife's dream.

Its original cost (approximately $4000 in Grand Rapids, Mich.) is exceptionally low, considering the roominess and advantages of the design. (Cost does not include price of the lot.)

There's no more than a touch of New England in the home, with its perky lean-to effect. The attached garage is a desirable feature.

The home was designed by Paul Schweiker Inc., Chicago architects. Further information, plans and advice of financing may be obtained from the nearest Federal Home Loan Board office, or you may write the Federal Home Loan Board, Washington, D. C.

Oakwood Park

Natural Site For Homes

Set in a natural grove of oak trees, Oakwood Park, located in Redwood City two blocks west of El Camino Real just a block north of Selby Ln., adjoining exclusive Atherton, combines a beautiful natural setting, a desirable community and close proximity to trading centers, schools and churches.

Besides oaks, majestic palms and other trees are in the park so that homes built there have a pleasant surrounding to start with. In addition, a fine view of the nearby mountains is available. With the tract bounded by a wide, paved oval road, the site is truly a park.

One of the houses has five rooms—a large living room with a fireplace, and two French doors, dining room with a French door; two beautifully-decorated bedrooms with four clothes closets; and a really smart kitchen with breakfast nook, full tiled sink and plenty of cupboard space and equipped with built-in ironing board and a linen closet. All rooms are equipped with shades and Venetian blinds. Full-tiled bathroom has separate stall shower and bath tub. A wash room has two stationary tubs.

This house has a half concrete, waterproof basement and a two-car garage with overhead roller door. Grounds are landscaped with lawns, flowers and shrubs.

Lots are 57x178 feet and fenced in, affording ample room in the rear to plan a park of your own with barbecue pits, swings and garden furniture.

L. Niccoli, treasurer of the Home Development Co. Inc., owners and developers of Oakwood Park, states they have spared no expense in the construction of the houses. All millwork, painting, decorating, hardware and electrical fixtures are of the best quality.

Oakwood Park is located near the shopping districts of Redwood City and Palo Alto, four blocks from a grammar school and with high school bus service, making it an ideal community in which to locate, especially for families with children.

These beautiful homes are moderately priced, to sell for from $550 to $600 down and monthly payments from $34.50 to $36 with all improvements included.

Construction

Home-Building Activity Gains Heavily in State

While the Construction Industries Jubilee is in session at Treasure Island this weekend, construction industries of California may well take a bow in reviewing their record of achievement in the past six years.

During this period, federal, state and industrial sources show, the astonishing total of $2,000,000,000—an average of $300 for every person in the State of California—has been invested in construction of bridges, hydro-electric systems, irrigation and defense projects, civic and commercial buildings, factories and thousands of homes throughout the state. From the construction industries more than 1,000,000 Californians directly secure their livelihood.

A housing survey revealed California home building last year reached the highest level in 10 years in point of volume and valuations, accordinng to C. J. Ryan, vice president of Investors Syndicate. The 13 cities used in the survey are Alameda, Fresno, Berkeley, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Oakland, Pasadena, Sacramento, San Diego, San Francisco, San Jose, Stockton and Vallejo. Total home building volume of these cities expanded for five successive years.

These 13 cities provided new homes for 120,108 people in 1939, a rise of 27,984 (or 30 per cent) over 1938. Homes built last year provided housing for 46.472 more people than the 73,636 total in 1930.

Value of new residences built in these California cities last year totaled $98,852,050, a rise of $18, 862,883 (23.6 per cent) over the 1938 level of $79,989,177. From 1931 to 1939, inclusive, such valuations aggregated $414,603,499.

Residential construction in the United States as a whole leaped forward in July, increasing 38 per cent over June, according to economists of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

The percentage increase was based upon an analysis of the residential construction index adjusted for normal seasonal variations. The index stood at 53.2 for July as compared with 36.6 in June. The index base of 100 used is for the year 1926.

Not only did home building in the nation spurt in July as compared with the previous month, but July building was 21 per cent better than in July last year.

For some time, building figures in cities, in general, have shown a forward trend in one-family home construction and the bulk of the increase has been due to expanding activity on the part of private builders.

In July, new family dwelling units built or projected by all types of builders totaled 28,463 and were valued at $101,200,200. In June there were 22,476 units costing $81,273,200 and in July, 1939, 23,479 units were reported at a value of $85,610,100.

Some 2,600,000 typical Americans in the medium and low income brackets, a great majority of whom presumably were threatened with the loss of their savings during the depth of the depression—and many of whom saw them vanish entirely—today know that their small accounts in the nation's insured thrift and home-financing institutions will weather any future crisis.

Their investments now total more than $2,000,000,000, protected up to $5000 for each investor by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., an institution created by Congress in 1934.

Insurance of accounts in savings and loan associations has been largely responsible for the renewed public confidence in these institutions, according to Nugent Fallon, general manager.

August Is Near Record Month

Instead of lapsing into the customary Summer slump, home building in Northern California during August swept into a sharp upswing and missed by a narrow margin becoming the banner building month of the year, according to the district office of the Federal Housing Administration.

Construction was started on an average of 61 FHA homes every working day during August within the Northern California district, and the investment in these new homes, financed under the Federal Housing plan, amounted to $276,059 a day.

Mortgages amounting to $7,453,600 were selected on 1648 homes to be built under FHA requirements and inspection, an increase of 111 homes and a gain of $570,700 over new construction during July.

'Happy Kitchen Cooking School' Scheduled for R.C. Next Week

Come out of the Kitchen!

How? Come see how Miss Nancy Baker of the Happy Kitchen Cooking School does it.

The Redwood City Tribune is pleased to bring the Happy Kitchen Cooking School to the McKinley School auditorium on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Sept. 25, 26, 27. The sessions will be held in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

"Most homemakers like to cook," says Miss Baker. "I do. But I also like to do it efficiently and get out of the kitchen. That is why I so thoroughly enjoy working in the Happy Kitchen. My aim is to constantly work out new and interesting dishes, but with the idea of economy of time and expense always before me.

"This idea is the keynote on which the manufacturers of home equipment and supplies also work. It is their aim to anticipate the home wishes and needs.

"I have many interesting things to tell the homemakers of Redwood City about the most up-to-the-minute equipment and groceries. And I usually feel that the three sessions of our Cooking School aren't half long enough. So if the ladies find that I haven't answered all the questions they might ask, I hope they will feel free to speak up and ask them."

DIVORCE CASE QUASHED

Eighteen-year-old Edith Botti Fagnani, who last week sued Joseph Fagnani for divorce on grounds of cruelty, dismissed the action in superior court Tuesday. Fagani, in his forties, is an apartment house owner and electrical store proprietor in Millbrae Highlands. They were married Aug. 30 and separated three days later, according to her complaint.

Wilson, S.M. Attorney, Is Divorced Here

The 14-year marriage of San Mateo City Atty. and Mrs. Ernest A. Wilson had ended today—finished off with a "quickie" divorce granted late Wednesday in superior court at Redwood City by Judge Warren V. Tryon of Del Norte County, sitting for Judge A. R. Cotton, who is away.

Mrs. Wilson, who brought the action, charged merely that the attorney had been guilty of "wilful conduct" causing "grievous mental suffering" over a two-year period. Official grounds for the divorce were given as "extreme cruelty."

She was granted custody of their 8-year-old daughter, Audrey, and a property settlement was approved. Wilson did not contest the action.

According to Mrs. Wilson's complaint, filed through Atty. Edward A. Cunha of San Francisco, the couple married Nov. 27, 1926, at Piedmont and separated June 1 of this year.

The interlocutory divorce decree was granted by Judge Tryon in chambers at 4:05 p.m., a few minutes after the complaint was filed. Only the customary routine questions regarding verification of charges contained in the complaint were asked of Mrs. Wilson, court attaches said.

King Peter I of Yugoslavia, when crowned in 1904, wore a bronze crown made from captured Turkish guns.

Burlingame Man Wins Fiesta Photo Contest

BURLINGAME — Two Burlingame men, Edward Goetze and Dave Olson, placed first and third, respectively, in the advanced section of the San Mateo County Fiesta photography contest.

One hundred thirty-six entries were submitted in the contest, and 100 will be on display in a special photo gallery in the Bay Meadows clubhouse.

Goetze, with his picture of an old man reading a newspaper, won the $10 first prize, and also a $25 grand prize award for the best photo in the show. Olson received a merchandise order for third prize in the advanced competition for his picture of a girl.

The same print won a special prize as the best candid shot in the show. Second place was won by Carl A. Finley of San Jose, whose entry was a photo of two children eating marshmallows.
